

SDSU INTERVARSITY

Jacklyn Andrada

December 2014

Ministry Gone Mobile

What does ministry look like in the process of being de-recognized on campus? This is a question we had to address at the start of this year. De-recognition meant that we didn't have the same access as a recognized student organization on campus. It also meant we had to be creative with how we met new students the first few weeks of school. Armed with banner backpacks, sandwich board proxies and costumes our students were bold in reaching out. No longer could they hide behind a tent on campus, but rather had to publicly show their faith. Because of their boldness we met over 600 students in the first two weeks alone.

Please be praying for continued boldness in our students as ministry continues even though we are still de-recognized.

Meet Mikayla

Mikayla is a senior and is a veteran leader with InterVarsity. She has done many things on leadership over the years including leading Bible studies, giving large group talks and discipling other students. After attending a missions trip a few summers ago, Mikayla's heart for service grew. Because of this passion, she started a Bible study focused on service. People not only learn about God's heart for justice while studying the Bible, but they also live out what they learn through serving the community. She has seen her one Bible study grow into two and hopes to see three service studies meet this year so that even more students can grow in their hearts to love and serve the community around them.

Personally Speaking

Recently, I looked back on almost 10 years of full time ministry. I remembered the different campuses I have been on, the teams I have been a part of, and the countless students I have had the opportunity to work with. As I look back I can't help but feel blessed to be a part of an amazing ministry where I get to see students take risks in their faith and people's lives changed forever. Not only that, I have had the opportunity to learn and grow in my own faith with God. I am thankful for this journey and look forward to seeing God's movement grow on college campuses.

Thanks for everything. Without your continued support and prayers, the work of InterVarsity at SDSU would not be possible. May God bless you and your family this holiday season!

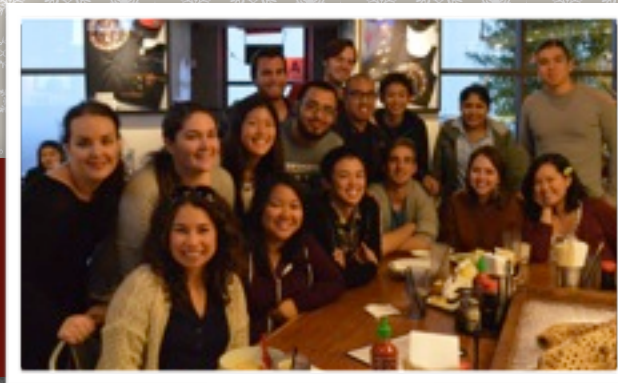

Jacklyn Andrada

End of the Year Gift

Even amidst de-recognition on campus, we have seen God still transform students lives and the mission continuing to press forward. Will you consider giving regularly to help support the movement at San Diego State InterVarsity?

Will you support the movement?

By December 31, it is my hope to find 8 people to partner at $100/month. Will you prayerfully consider becoming a regular partner or giving a year end gift of $100, $250, $500 or more to meet this goal?

Use the included giving envelope or give online at https://donate.intervarsity.org/donate/to/Jackie_Andrada